

Washing Day

The weatherman said it would be fine

So I hung my washing on the line.

The weather grew cold

My pegs didn't hold.

The wind blew strong

Took the washing along.

I looked down the street

And there was my sheet.

All black and dirty

Outside number 30.